WELCOME SPEECH

"Trade Unions Events" e-magazine highlights and promotes the activities carried out by the Confederation of Trade Unions of Armenia (CTUA). The magazine has become a platform for presenting important events, initiatives, and activities of trade union life that contribute to raising workers' awareness and protecting their labour, social, economic, and professional rights.

Today, more than ever, being informed is essential, and we continue our work by strengthening the trade union movement in Armenia and disseminating information that supports and advances the interests of workers.

THE INTERNATIONAL TRADE UNION CONFEDERATION (ITUC) PAN-EUROPEAN REGIONAL COUNCIL (PERC) SUMMER SCHOOL IN YEREVAN

From June 30 to July 1, Yerevan hosted the International Trade Union Confederation's Pan-European Regional Council (ITUC/PERC) Summer School, bringing together representatives of the trade union movement from Eastern and Western Europe, the South Caucasus, and Central Asia.

The two-day meeting provided an opportunity not only to address the rapid changes taking place in the world of work, but also to discuss ways of responding to these challenges and strengthening the protection of workers' rights. The discussions focused on the impact of technological developments and artificial intelligence on the labor market, the future of decent work, the development of social dialogue, and the interconnectedness of peace, stability, and social justice.

During the Summer School, leaders and experts from international organizations presented regional and global trends, emphasizing that, in a rapidly changing world of work, trade unions continue to play a crucial role not only in protecting workers' rights but also in building fair and inclusive societies. Representatives of the International Labour Organization, the European Trade Union Institute, the United Nations, and other international organizations also participated in the meeting.

The Yerevan Summer School once again demonstrated that the protection of workers' rights cannot be limited by national borders. Global changes in the world of work require a collective response through stronger social dialogue, enhanced cooperation among trade unions, and a stronger voice for workers in political decision-making processes.

The event served as an important platform for deepening regional cooperation and shaping the future priorities of the trade union movement, highlighting one common message: achieving decent work, social justice, and peace requires collective action.

VISIT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE INTERNATIONAL LABOUR ORGANIZATION (ILO) BUREAU FOR WORKERS' ACTIVITIES (ACTRAV) TO YEREVAN

On June 30 and July 1, Yerevan hosted the International Trade Union Confederation's Pan-European Regional Council (ITUC/PERC) Summer School, as part of which Oliver Röpke, Director of the International Labour Organization (ILO) Bureau for Workers' Activities (ACTRAV), visited Armenia. During his visit, Oliver Röpke, together with Elen Manaseryan, President of the Confederation of Trade Unions of Armenia, and Gocha Alexandria, Senior Specialist in Workers' Activities at the ILO, held a series of meetings focused on the development of social dialogue in Armenia, the protection of workers' rights, and reforms in the labor sector.

During his visit, Oliver Röpke also met with Anahit Manasyan, the Human Rights Defender of Armenia. The meeting addressed issues related to the protection of human rights in the workplace, the development of social dialogue, the protection of the right to strike, and labor reforms.

Oliver Röpke welcomed Armenia's ratification of ILO Convention No. 190, emphasizing the importance of its effective implementation at both the legislative and practical levels.

Elen Manaseryan, in turn, emphasized the importance of cooperation with the Office of the Human Rights Defender, noting that numerous issues related to labor and the protection of workers' rights remain pressing. She stressed that continued cooperation with the Human Rights Defender's Office is both important and necessary to address existing challenges, protect workers' rights, and develop effective mechanisms for their protection.

The meetings held in Yerevan reaffirmed the commitment of the ILO and its partners to continuing their support for the development of social dialogue in Armenia, the protection of workers' rights, and the promotion of decent work.

SEMINAR LABOR LEGISLATION, TRADE UNION DOCUMENTATION MANAGEMENT

ON THE “BARI LUYS” MORNING SHOW: DISCUSSING “TRADE UNION SPORTS 2026”

On the “Bari Luys” Morning Show, Varduhi Brutyan, Head of the Research and Education Center of the Confederation of Trade Unions of Armenia, and trade union representative Lusine Ghahramanyan presented the “Trade Union Sports 2026” initiative.

The guests spoke about important aspects of trade union activities, emphasizing that a trade union is not only an organization that protects workers’ rights. It is also a platform that brings people together and promotes a culture of healthy living, education, mutual support, and cooperation.

“Trade Union Sports 2026” combines physical activity, professional discussions, and teamwork, creating opportunities for representatives of trade unions from different sectors to connect, exchange experiences, and strengthen professional relationships.

The program also highlighted the importance of sport as a means of strengthening trade union solidarity and team spirit. The initiative aims to build a more active, healthy, and united trade union community.

“Trade Union Sports 2026” is another step toward demonstrating that the trade union movement is not only about protecting rights, but also about bringing people together, fostering personal and professional development, and creating a new culture of cooperation.
